

NOVABASE

GENDER EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY PLAN

2022 | 2023

Managing diversity is essential for all of our businesses. We believe our people are more productive when they are treated with respect and dignity, when they feel engaged and proud of their contribution towards helping the company grow, when they feel reflected in corporate policies, and when their skills are leveraged so that they develop in a working environment whose doors are open to diversity and inclusion.

Background

At Novabase, we believe in equal opportunities and mutual respect regardless of each individual's ethnicity, gender, religion, beliefs, social background or sexual orientation. These differences which characterize us, and a variety of perspectives, tend to enhance the quality of decision-making processes, providing greater intellectual and cultural richness and a more accurate reflection of reality and of those involved.

In this context, the main aspects, documents, practices and processes in place at the Novabase Group, which it believes have an impact on non-financial issues relevant to the Group (namely involving the environment, society, labour, gender equality, non-discrimination, human rights and the fight against corruption), are listed below:

- Novabase's business and the conduct of its employees are governed by applicable law in relevant jurisdictions, and by Novabase's Code of Conduct (published at its corporate website), an internally approved document in effect at the Group since 2011 aimed at guiding the conduct of Novabase's professionals through values cultivated by the Group in its customer and interpersonal relations;
- In 2019, a specific procedure was implemented on how to act in the event of workplace harassment, a conduct which Novabase considers to be unacceptable;
- The company's business is managed in accordance with the Integrated Management System. Novabase's companies are audited by its financial auditors; its certifications in quality (ISO 9001), environmental management (ISO 14001) and occupational health and safety (ISO 45001) are renewed each year after internal and external audits, the latter conducted by certifying entities;
- The company regularly monitors customer satisfaction, along with its employees' satisfaction with company services and other issues of interest to the management;
- In compliance with Portuguese Corporate Governance Institute recommendations regarding the governance of listed companies, and in view of fostering a culture of responsibility and compliance, Novabase has adopted a whistleblowing system for reporting irregularities (known as "SPI") that may occur within its Group (for a detail of the system, please see <https://content.novabase.com/storage/uploads/comunicacao-de-irregularidades-2.pdf>);
- The Prevention Plan for the Risks of Corruption and Related Offences was approved in September 2021;
- The company also has "Internal Regulations on Business Dealings with Qualified Novabase, SGPS, S.A. Shareholders" in effect.

All of the above practices address the legal and regulatory requirements applicable to Novabase's business, including:

- Council of Ministers Resolution no. 20/2112 of 08 March 2012, which requires the mandatory adoption of an equality plan by all entities in the state corporate sector, with a view to achieving equal treatment and equal opportunities between men and women, eliminating discrimination and reconciling personal, family and professional life;
- This obligation was extended to listed companies through Law no. 62/2017 of 01 August, which passed the scheme for equal representation between men and women in the managing and supervisory boards of entities from the corporate public sector and listed companies. Article 7 of this law establishes the obligation to prepare annual equality plans "aimed at effectively achieving equal treatment and equal opportunities between men and women, eliminating gender discrimination and reconciling personal, family and professional life";
- Law no. 62/2017, which also requires listed companies to have quotas representing both genders of 20% (beginning on the first elective General Meeting of Shareholders held after 01 January 2018) and 33.3% (beginning on the first elective General Meeting of Shareholders held after 01 January 2020) vis-à-vis all executive and non-executive directors;
- Sub-section III, articles 23 through 65 of the Labour Code, which gives relevance to the topic of gender equality through general positions on equality and non-discrimination, the prohibition of harassment and equality and non-discrimination according to gender and parenthood.

The Portuguese parliament has also issued a number of recommendations to the government in this regard:

- Resolution no. 116/2012 of 13 July, recommending that it take family support measures to reconcile personal life with professional life;
- Resolution no. 260/2017 of 30 November, recommending measures to ensure actual compliance with working hours and the reconciliation of work with family life.

Through Law no. 60/2018 of 21 August, the Portuguese parliament passed measures promoting wage equality between men and women for the same work or work of equal value, through four types of information, evaluation and correction mechanisms, which will enter into force on 21 February 2019.

Managing and Supervisory Board Diversity Policy

We believe that diversity in our corporate boards helps to improve Novabase's performance and competitiveness. As such, we are committed to the following policy:

- Compliance with Law no. 62/2017 of 01 August, since gender diversity provides different management styles and complementary approaches;

- With regard to age, there must be a balance between experience and maturity and the youth and energy needed for the fast-paced innovation of our highly dynamic sector (Information Technologies);
- With regard to qualifications and education, in addition to areas associated with technology, various other areas of knowledge must also be represented, in view of the mounting importance of multidisciplinary in team performance.

Novabase will monitor this policy's implementation, in accordance with its corporate governance model, and will review it whenever deemed appropriate.

Diagnostics

To properly gauge the present needs in relation to gender equality, various internal and external information sources were considered, namely:

- Diagnostic index, available at the Portal, for equality at work and companies.
- Guide for preparing equality plans, published by the Commission for Equality in Labour and Employment (CITE).
- Analytics of Human Resources who monitor the how strategies and action plans are laid out each year.
- Recommendations from the CITE's technical analysis of plans published by Novabase in 2020/2021 and in 2021/2022.

Strategy, Mission and Values

Diversity and inclusion are inherent underlying values in Novabase's organizational culture. They allow us to attract, develop, motivate and retain the best talent. They help us to be more innovative when developing products and solutions for our customers. They help us expand the business into new regions, embracing and incorporating new cultures and customs. They nurture the growth and ongoing success of our business.

At Novabase, we promote a culture where everyone has a proactive "voice" within the organization. We focus on transparent communication in our processes and procedures, promoting equal opportunities in an organization which is increasingly more multi-generational and multi-cultural.

The values of diversity and inclusion are a prerequisite for the sustainability of Novabase's long-term business strategy. As such, Novabase is committed to constantly encouraging and promoting equality between our people, and accepting each person's individuality as a competitive advantage.

Results and Indicators

Since no matters involving human rights, corruption or attempted bribery were reported in 2021 to the management of Novabase SGPS, S.A. through the available channels for this purpose, there are no indicators to report in this regard.

As regards gender equality, we remain committed at the Novabase Group to act according to the principles of equal treatment and equal opportunities between men and women.

We pay attention to indicators to monitor trends at our organization involving the proportion of men and women vis-à-vis all employees, career advancement and respective compensation.

Organizational profile

The IT sector continues to be predominantly male. At the Novabase Group, this indicator has remained stable in recent years. In 2022, the distribution of men and women has been 69% and 31%, respectively.

 683 1,489
 (31%) (69%)
 TOTAL - 2,172

With regard to the percent distribution of women/men by career level proportionally to the total number of women/men at the company, we can see a relatively lower distribution of women at the higher organizational levels, although this difference is not significant.

Graph 1: % women/men by career level in relation to the total number at the company (including all individuals with an employment relationship)

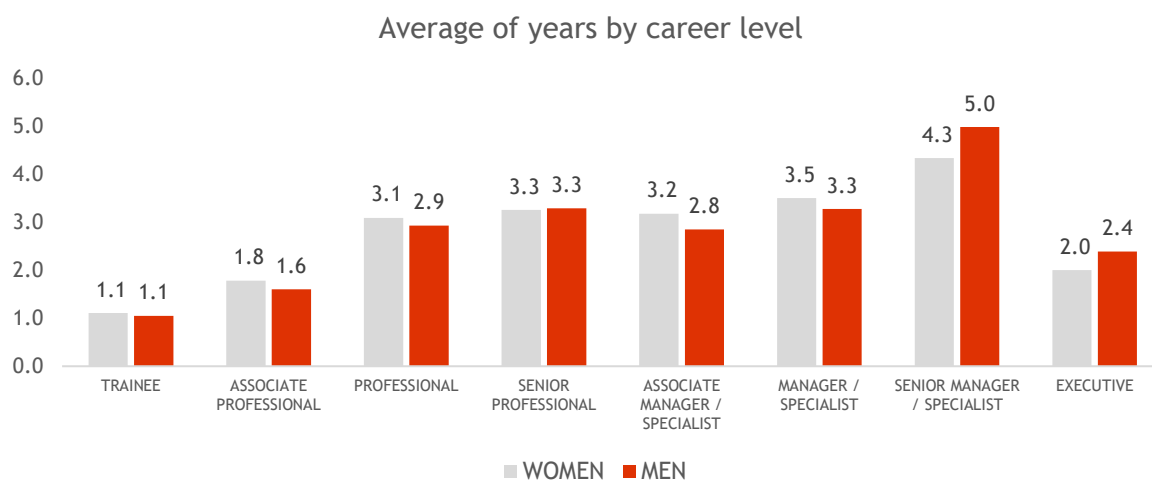

In terms of compensation practices, the Novabase Group actively promotes a culture of equality, both at the time of hiring (with comparative market studies) and internally (using tools for performance evaluation and recognition, where individual and collective contributions are differentiating factors). In the diagnostics done in 2022, a comparative analysis of compensation levels between men and women revealed different trends. The average compensation of women at the start of their initial career was 16% higher than that of men. One factor contributing towards this was the trend, among women, of having higher academic qualifications than men at the time of hiring. However, this difference has a downward trend over the course of the career, ranging from -1% to -4%, meaning that men begin to earn more than women in subsequent career levels.

With regard to analysing promotions, no consistent trend could be seen. While during the last cycle of promotions, in 2021, there was some difference in the number of individuals promoted (23% of men were promoted compared to 20% of women), this difference was the opposite in the previous cycle.

Graph 2: % promotions proportional to the total number of women versus men

Also with regard to career advancement, an analysis of the average time in each career level does not suggest a clear pattern of differences.

Graph 3: average time in each career level for women/men

The Novabase Group has processes and internal tools to proactively promote equality at the time of promotion. Valuing people’s professional experience, technical and soft skills, performance and potential are factors which apply to the entire organization and are known by our people. We strive for a culture of transparency in relation to opportunities for internal mobility and career advancement.

Measures and practices to be implemented, and their monitoring

At Novabase, creating an increasingly more inclusive culture is one of our main goals, and the path we have been building. Achieving this Quality Plan is a reflection of our journey to make the organization ever more inclusive, with greater diversity and equal access to opportunities and the fulfilment of obligations, adding value to our people, partners and customers.

As such, we have various agents at the organization mobilized towards achieving our strategy of diversity and inclusion (Table 1).

In this topic, we also present developments in the proposed goals of the 2022/2023 Equality Plan, where we summarize the measures already implemented in 2020/2021 and the proposed actions for 2022/2023 in the various aspects of the plan (Table 2).

Building a 2022/2023 Equality Plan is based on a diagnostic performed in 2020/2021, with the help of a support matrix provided by the CITE - Self-Assessment Guide on Gender Equality in Companies, and the CITE's recommendations for Novabase's Equality Plan. Novabase has analysed the document in depth, exploring its various aspects, for the purpose of surveying existing organizational practices related to each of these topics and finding strong points and areas for improvement in this regard. With this analysis, we aim to respond to the needs identified, designing new action proposals to address the main issues arising from the previous analysis. This diagnostic was carried out by a diverse multidisciplinary team with members from the Human Resources, Legal and Business Departments, and has been an ongoing undertaking.

Measures aimed at legal compliance, such as establishing a mandatory system of quotas, for people with a degree of disability of 60% or more, among the total number of people, are considered priority measures by the organization.

Compliance with these initiatives will be monitored and assessed based on a monthly follow-up meeting with those in charge of implementing each measure (Table 1). In addition, the Gender Equality and Diversity Committee will meet quarterly with the same goal, and to make decisions on the proposed plan whenever deemed necessary.

The findings presented and gaps encountered are analysed and discussed by the Committee and the equality and diversity team in order to determine measures to be implemented in the next cycle to gradually eliminate gaps and promote gender equality from all standpoints.
